

identity

The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished:

But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government. Presumptuous are they, selfwilled, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.

Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord.

Identity

But you are a chosen people, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people belonging to God, that you may declare the praises of him who called you out of darkness into his wonderful light. Once you were not a people, but now you are the people of God; once you had not received mercy, but now you have received mercy.

Dear friends, I urge you, as aliens and strangers in the world, to abstain from sinful desires, which war against your soul.

Student Life

Beginning of the Year

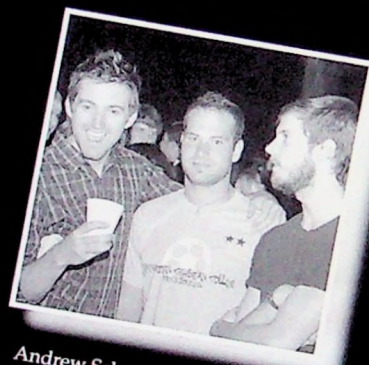

As the new freshmen roll up on the campus with their belongings, feeling nervous and worried for what might be for the coming year, the upperclassmen return with excitement to reconnect with their friends. Everyone is, of course, happy to be back at Manhattan Christian College.

To start off the new year we had move-in day, orientation, class enrollment, and also the good financial aid meetings. The more exciting days were to come which included the annual faculty/staff vs. student softball game with the delicious watermelon feed, bowling at the K-State Union, worship at Alumni Center and just reconnecting and meeting new friends.

Professor Genilyn McCaffrey advises Michelle Brooks on what classes to take.

"The year has been fun! New friendships, finding myself and finding Jesus! It has been a life changing experience."
- Megan Hall

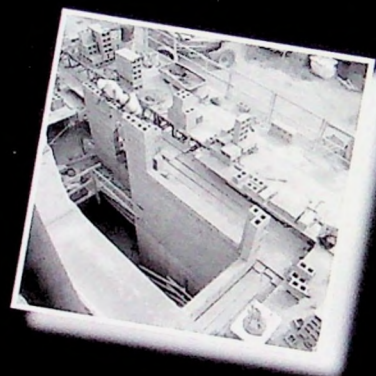

Resident Assistants Andrew Crandall, Andrew Schey, and Justin Reinhard help Residence Hall Supervisor Josh Woodward check in Austin Calahan.

Bre Busenitz makes many trips from the parking lot to Kenoyer Hall during move in day.

Andrew Schey and Amanda Owens explain to Nikki Garretson, Robbie Ulrich and Amanda Cruz why they should be involved with Student Spiritual Life at the Activities Fair.

Jolliffe Hall Remodel

As the first academic and administration building built for Manhattan Christian College, Jolliffe Hall has been and always will be a strategic space on the MCC campus. Located on the corner of 14th and Anderson Avenue, almost all alumni have taken classes or worshipped in this historic cornerstone.

The transformation will include a 300-seat multi-level chapel, two classrooms, a permanent home for the library and college archives and a three story glass atrium with an elevator.

When Jolliffe is done it will be an eye catcher for those across the street at Kansas State University. Jolliffe Hall should be completed and ready for chapel in the fall of 2009.

"Jolliffe Hall isn't only a building, but it will be at the heart of what MCC is about: education and worshiping God"

Bethanni Gomez and Katie Wright buzz their way around a great Barn Party.

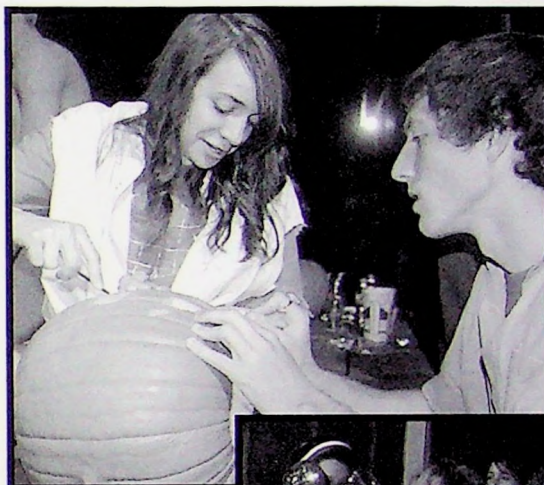

Laura Skiles and Katie Crum show a very curious Russel Rader how to get down on the dance floor.

On October 18, 2008 the MCC student body got together for the annual Barn Party hosted at the Swihart barn. We had many new additions this year including a big air game that was a huge hit. There were many surprising costumes this year from Captain Planet to road signs to the Jolly Green Giant and many more.

Along with all the dancing and food that was offered, there was also a pumpkin carving contest. Later that night we crowned two best dressed: Zack Force was best dressed male as the Jolly Green Giant and Brittany Baisley was best dressed female as crazy Brittney Spears. Once again Barn Party will be a night to remember!

"My favorite part about the Barn Party this year was everyone dressing up in crazy outfits and dancing the night away!"

- Kristy Reigle

Winter Banquet

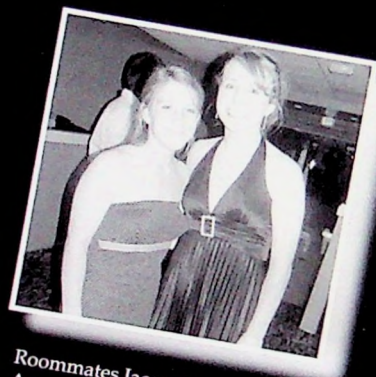

This year's Winter Banquet was the finale to our annual TWIRP Week which meant the ladies were encouraged to ask the guys. The theme was, "It's a Wonderful Winter Banquet" and attendees arrived dressed in black and white ready for a classy evening. The entertainment was a live jazz trio from Kansas State University and the food was desserts prepared by the Holiday Inn. Elise Drennan won the "Most TWIRP Dates" award and Kevin Foster won "Most TWIRP-ed." Students enjoyed taking pictures by the Christmas trees, eating the tasty treats, and dancing the night away with their friends.

Amanda Owens and Kenny Park finish off TWIRP Week together at the Winter Banquet.

Chris Battelli gives a thumbs up to an awesome Winter Banquet!

"Winter Banquet was awesome! It was great to have a fun night with all my friends and dance the night away."

Kenny Park, Hannah Troutt, Brian Wilde and Amanda Owens reminisce their great summer on Camp Team.

Bethany Larson and Teresa Roberts are so excited for their first Winter Banquet.

Skip Day

Though the weather was grey and raining for this year's annual skip day, MCC still enjoyed a fun-filled day of skipping classes, playing games, and enjoying great fellowship with both students, faculty and staff. The morning was spent hanging out around campus and the afternoon was spent at Wildcat Creek where everyone could play miniature golf, batting cages, softball, or use the driving range. The evening was spent relaxing and spending time with friends and dreaming about summer vacation that was only weeks away.

Nick Sauceman and Christine Capp share a laugh as they try their hand at putt-putt.

Spring Banquet

Spring Banquet, a beloved tradition for MCC students, is a chance to dress up and have a night out on the town and this year was no exception. Held in Manhattan's historic Wareham Theater on Poyntz Avenue, it was a lovely evening had by all.

This year we enjoyed fine dining and entertainment provided by our own talented students. Andrew Schey hosted MCC's very own "Dating Game." It was a hoot. Awards were given to juniors and seniors for outstanding achievements, and students, faculty and staff danced the night away.

KD: Community

This year MCC participated in its fourth annual Kerusso Dayz: Community. Students, faculty, and staff volunteered their time and energy to help out organizations around the Manhattan Community. This year's Kerusso Dayz: Community was the best the college had seen when it came to volunteers. Because so many people were willing to sacrifice their time the campus was able to serve the community at: Flint Hills Bread Basket, Flint Hills Christian School, Manhattan Emergency Shelter, Big Brothers Big Sisters, Boys and Girls Club, Manhattan Arts Center, Hope Ranch, Flint Hills Christian School, American Red Cross, and Youth for Christ.

Yarn, yarn, and more yarn! Jessica Moore and Brigid O'Toole helped untangle a mess during Kerusso Dayz.

"Kerusso Dayz is a great chance to not only get to know fellow classmates better, but also people of the community; and what better way than to serve!"
- Ashley Wheeler

Alina Launchbaugh folded and sorted sheets while volunteering at Manhattan Emergency Shelter.

Kerusso Dayz

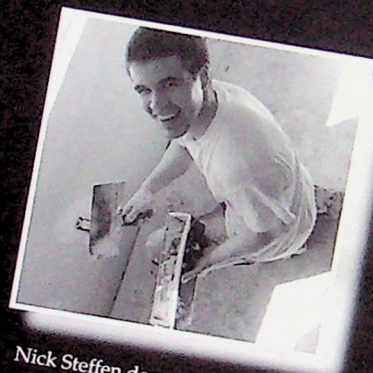

Each year MCC students are given a chance to take part in a short term mission trip during their spring break vacation. This year teams were sent to Chicago, Joplin, Mexico, and Texas to help with various ministries and service projects. While in each of these locations, the teams were able to serve in very different ways, but each shared the same Kerusso Dayz goal, "To proclaim God's love to His people." With this in mind, students were able to make an impact in the lives of others while they received experience and formed friendships that impacted them as well.

Jacquelyn Phillips and Becca Lee give directions for their construction project in Mexico.

Nick Steffen does some light repair work while working in a hurricane damaged home in Texas.

Andrew Crandall spots for Kenny Park as he braves the ladder in order to paint a wall at The Bridge.

"Going on a Kerusso Dayz trip was the best decision I made all year. I learned so much about myself and other cultures, and it showed me that my passion is actually missions in other countries."

- Jamie Moldrup

While playing with her new friend at Safeplace in Chicago, Brighid O'Toole creates a masterpiece with sidewalk chalk.

Brittany Baisley, a member of the Joplin team, assists in the painting process at The Bridge.

While serving in Mexico, Katie Crum helps unload supplies for the house the team was building.

KD: Mexico

Pictured with the Ruelas family is the Mexico team: Becca Lee, Katie Crum, Nick Brown, Curtis Jensen, Andrew Schey, Sierra Gregory, Megan Behr, Jacquelyn Phillips, Jamie Moldrup, and Clint Bowles.

Jacquelyn Phillips and Jamie Moldrup take part in the stuccoing process of the exterior of the house they are building.

Clint Bowles, the Mexico team leader, hangs out with a new friend he made.

The Kerusso Dayz Mexico team had the opportunity to help an existing ministry, One Mission. Specifically, they helped build an entire house for the Ruelas family. While helping with the construction they leveled out the area, laid concrete, built frames, put in plywood, applied stucco to tar paper and chicken wire, and put in windows and doors.

Because of the generous support and help from the people within the community, this five day project only required three and a half days for completion.

"We were able to live Christ for these people and hopefully open up opportunities for Brittany and Dustin Patrick, the missionaries down there, to evangelize," concluded team member Jacquelyn Phillips over the trip.

Katie Crum and Andrew Schey work together while cutting boards for the team's construction project.

KD: Texas

The Texas team: Kelsey Taylor, Allyssa Kaufmann, Christina Bradford, Jacob Carlson, Chad Hannagan, Nicole Sauer and Jonathan York.

Nicole Sauer works on trimming the walls in the interior painting projects.

Jacob Carlson gets his hands dirty with a spackling project.

Allyssa Kaufmann, the Texas team leader, and Nicole Sauer paint a door for the house they are working on.

The Kerusso Dayz Texas team drove to Bridge, Texas where they assisted in a series of hurricane relief projects. Among these was their work in three different homes where they primarily made repairs through a lot of painting, mudding, tapping, and texturizing damaged surfaces.

They were able to spend some time with the families they were helping, and even witnessed the desperate circumstances of many families still living in small FEMA trailers and many other unfortunate situations. Team member Kelsey Taylor commented on her Kerusso Dayz experience saying, "My favorite part was working with families, and getting to see their faces!"

KD: Joplin

The Joplin Team: Justin Reinhard, Benjamin Eggers, Cody Davey, Robert Windler, Steven Beech, Kenny Park, Brittany Baisley, Cody Hill and Andrew Crandall.

Steven Beech visits with a boy he met while hanging out with the youth at The Bridge.

The Kerusso Dayz Joplin team made their way to Missouri where they worked and hung out at The Bridge, a center for youth. While there, they worked on several projects that the regular staff didn't have time to complete such as dusting, painting, cleaning windows, and sweeping the floors. Because The Bridge's rock climbing area had received flood damage, the team also took on a six day project of tearing the unit down. They were even able to hang out with some of the youth who came to The Bridge while it was open on the weekend, and also got to have a bit of fun by playing a few video games in their spare time!

As part of one of the many projects the team took part in, Kenny Park, paints at The Bridge.

KD: Chicago

The Chicago Team: Elise Drennan, Michelle Brooks, Rebekah Hachmeister, Bethanni Gomez, Lauren Ingram, Alli Woods, Jessica Wright, Christine Capp, Tess Caywood, Brighid O'Toole and Ashley Wheeler.

While working at Edgewater Baptist Church, Bethanni Gomez, Tess Caywood, and Brighid O'Toole clean up the church yard as part of their work day.

The Kerusso Dayz Chicago team, a group compiled of eleven girls, spent their time working in the inner-city. While there, they spent most of their time working at Edgewater Baptist Church, primarily helping out with the church's after school program, Safeplace. Aside from helping with tutoring and other activities, the team was able to form several new friendships with the Safeplace kids, and also make a few improvements around the church building and yard. They encountered many different cultures and ethnicities and were also able to learn while taking part in an immersion night for a male prostitute ministry.

Student Led Ministries

While at MCC, students have the opportunity to take part in a variety of student led ministries. Among this years selection were Triune, A Different View, and Nursing Home Ministry.

This year members of Triune worked on various projects such as creating a video for Oasis. They also served others by creating art pieces for an auction, which was held to raise money for a ministry position in Italy.

The Nursing Home ministry made weekly visits to sing and chat with the elderly. A Different View prepared several pieces including a performance to the Lifehouse Skit, which they had the opportunity to share with groups and churches in Kansas.

All in all, students had a wide selection of opportunities to serve in student ministries.

While at the Nursing Home, Megan Baehr and Sierra Gregory sing to the residents.

"God gave us all a variety of gifts that He expects us to use in His honor, and Triune hopes to accomplish this through media, arts and creative expression... and it's a blast!"

- Brandon Barnum

Teresa Roberts encourages Melanie Lee to drink while performing in the Lifehouse Skit.

Nursing Home leader Michael Boyle catches up with one of the residents.

Triune members Brandon Barnum and Zack Force work with A Different View to create a video of their performance.

Student Life Clubs

There are many clubs or groups to get involved with during your time at MCC. Some of the Student Life Clubs include; Ambassadors, STUCO, Cru and Event Staff. The Ambassadors are an important leadership organization of the college. Their love of the college help them share the MCC story with alumni and friends of the college. CRU and Event Staff help out the Admissions department with recruiting, tours, and Oasis.

STUCO serves as the students voice. Members of STUCO plan activities to help make every year a memorable one.

All of these clubs include long meetings, weekend trips, and lots of planning to succeed in their mission.

Greg Klass and Sarah Regouby make signs for the Open House put on by Event Staff.

Justin Reinhard grabs a quick break fast after the early 7:30 meeting for Ambassadors.

Alli Woods helps Eric Schneider get started on his Thank You cards for the faculty and staff.

"The Ambassadors have done a fantastic job at building the relationship between MCC and the church by going and telling their MCC story."

-Josh Woodard

Christina Bradford, Kelsey Taylor, Tandra Bray help out and enjoy a snow cone at an Admissions Open House.

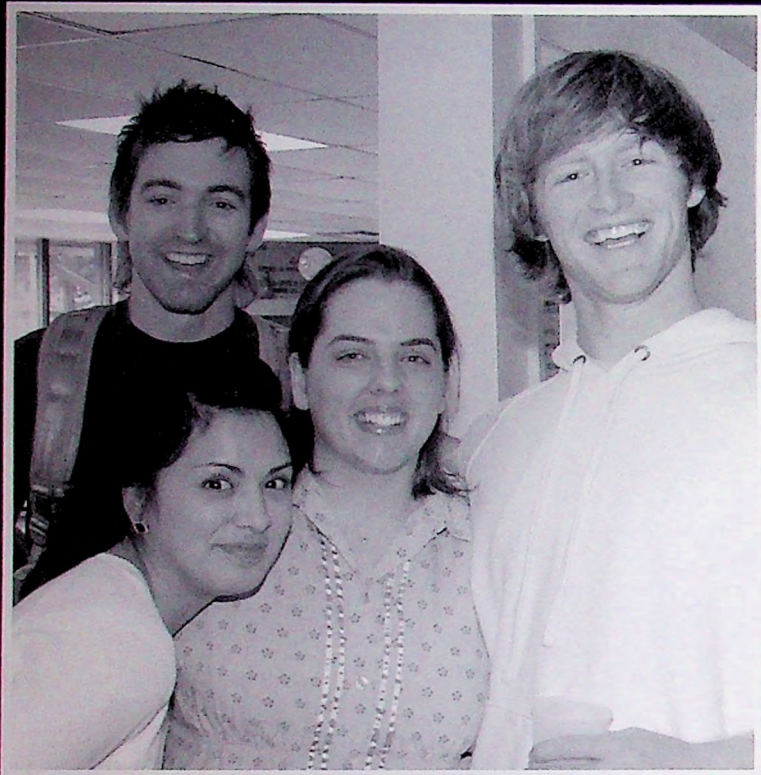

Kai Blakeborough presents Curtis Jensen with an award at the end of the year STUCO dinner.

Eric Schneider and Josh Woodard stopped to get breakfast after their Ambassador meeting.

Student Life Activities

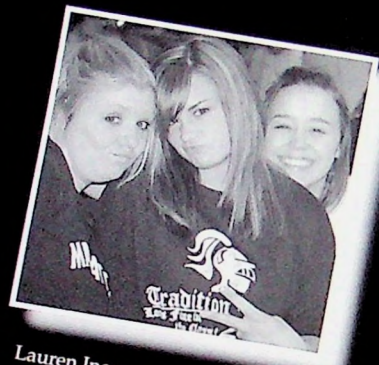

Student life activities are full of excitement as students get together and start to build a closer friendship and start to feel more at home at Manhattan Christian College. Break Aways, CAN (Crusader Activity Night), Open Residence Halls, Family Weekend, Super Bowl Party and the World Series Party were many of the student life activities.

Student life activities are a time where Manhattan Christian College can get everyone together and break away from their busy everyday schedules. These student life activities really make your time at Manhattan Christian College because it helps everyone develop a stronger, more personable relationship with others.

-Zac Bayless

Jacob Carlson, Brighid O'Toole and Andrew Crandall are anxious for the Royals game to start.

During half-time of a boys basketball game, the Traditions committee planned an activity involving toilet paper, cotton balls and tape. Seniors Nick Brown, Kevin Hubbard, Kai Blakeborough and Curtis Jensen didn't win but still had lots of fun.

Student Activities

This year has been an exciting one. There has been a wide-variety of great student activities. I think it is safe to say that everyone has had a great time at all the different events. There has always been a great crowd at the monthly Break Aways where students are given the chance to just sit back, relax, and enjoy some free food.

There has been other great events such as the Super Bowl party, World Series party, or the Final Four Championship Party. There have been other great activities such as SSLC worship nights where students are able to worship God with their fellow class mates in new and creative ways. All in all, this has been a great year for student activities.

Chapel

Every Tuesday morning at eleven o' clock, MCC students, faculty and staff gather together and celebrate God. The service usually begins by a student led worship band. After singing and praising God together, there is a speaker. There was a variety of speakers from our own MCC Faculty and Staff to alumni, and even some of our own students. The speakers would remind us of God's love, His Word and promises but also challenge us in our relationship with Christ. Chapel is a special part of our week.

Chapel is what unites our campus and reminds us that it is not about us, but that it is all about the glory of God.

Kenoyer Hall

The college experience just wouldn't be the same without experiencing life in a residence hall. Girls in Kenoyer Hall get the privilege of having entertainment twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. There never seems to be a dull moment. Late night Wal-mart runs and movie nights always bring laughter to the suites.

Throughout the year the girls at Kenoyer Hall have transformed from being a group of girls to a family of women. Whether it be spending time worshipping God in dorm devos or hanging out with a couple of suite mates, there always seems to be great memories.

The girls in Kenoyer have developed a bond with each other that would be tough to break.

Johnson Hall

What a year for the residents of Johnson Hall. The hallways were a buzz with the sweet sound and smell of another MCC school year. The men of Johnson Hall experienced the joys of communal bathrooms, roommates, and changes in the dorms and on campus. There were many learning experiences inside and outside the classrooms and of course, the start of many life-long friendships.

While new freshman had their first experience with Johnson Hall, some long-time residents said their final goodbye to their beloved home. Everyone could agree on one thing, the memories made will be cherished forever.

Classroom/Academics

Let's face it, we love to learn. In the classroom we acquire the tools needed to go out into the world and succeed in ministry and in many other different professions. MCC has always had a great learning environment with professors that care for their students and want them to be ready for when they leave college. Let's not forget to mention that students are always excited to learn inside and even outside the classroom. It's not hard to find students studying or discussing material they have learned in class.

Camp Teams

The Camp Teams for the 2009 summer are ready to go! This year there are three great camp teams heading out in every direction. The Camp Teams will be heading to California, Arizona, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Colorado, and just about anywhere you can think of.

MCC has been sending out camp teams since 1985, and every year it seems there are more places to go and more people to see. Camp Team is a great way for MCC to get its name out there and really serve other ministries over the summer. They are here to help out in anyway possible.

This year the volleyball team had five new players and seven returning players. This team was made up of very talented ladies that led them to the National Championship once again.

With a record of 30-7, the team finished with a Regional Championship beating Grace University and finished with third at the National Championship.

There were also many ladies that recieved special recognition this year: Ellie Stutzman - 1st Team All American, Regional Co-MVP, All Tournament Team and 1st Team All Conference. Rachel Miller- All Tournament Team, 1st Team All Conference, 1st Team All Region, and Honorable Mention All American.

Katie Crum-All Tournament Team, Honorable Mention and Scholar Athlete.

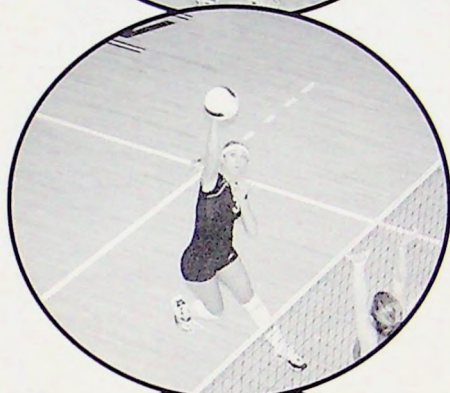

Jennifer McGauley- Regional Libero of the Year and 2nd Team All Conference.

Risa Wolf- 2nd Team All Region and 2nd Team All Conference.

The team showed great strength and encouragement to one another throughout the season. With such a strong love for the sport from each of the girls they finished with a great season from Coach Lauren Sanders as well as Assistant Coaches Ray Sanders and Joanna Ingmire. With only three seniors leaving, we will be expecting a great season from these girls next year.

Senior Spotlight Ellie Stutzman

"This season was the best season yet out of my four years that I've played here. I felt like this team had unlimited amounts of heart and drive. Because of that, I felt like we developed an even greater love for the game of volleyball and for each other. I'm thankful to have made relationships that will last me a lifetime!"

-Ellie Stutzman

Women's Soccer

Coach Eric Ingmire, Jessica Moore, Jessie Bennie, Jacque Blick, Sarah Regouby, Michelle Brooks, Brigid O'Toole, and Bre Brandenburg. Kat Tatem, Amanda Harrison, Devra Redford, Katie Wright, Jamie Moldrup, Tess Caywood, Cheyenne Williams, Jacquelyn Phillips, and Anya Maltseva.

Jamie Moldrup and Jessie Bennie are just one example of the unity of the MCC Lady Crusaders.

Our leading scorer, Katie Wright, often takes the ball right past the goalie. The Lady Crusaders never forget that it's Christ's name in which they play.

The Lady Crusaders soccer team took their season one step further than they did last year to finish third in the nation at the NCCAA Division II National Tournament. They achieved their 8-6 record with the leadership of the five returning players; Anya Maltseva, Jacquelyn Phillips, Katie Wright, Jaque Blick, and Kat Tatem. That, coupled with the determination and competitiveness of the underclassmen, meant that the Lady Crusaders were bound to make a statement. Head Coach Eric Ingmire is very proud of the success of the season and is expecting even better results from the team next fall.

Throughout the season, there were many different opportunities for the Lady Crusader's to show their unity on and off the field. With Psalm 86:11 as the motto for the season, the Lady Crusaders exemplified teamwork in almost every situation.

"Teach me Your way, O LORD; I will walk in Your truth; Unite my heart to fear Your name." Psalm 86:11

Devra Redford heads the ball away from her opponent.

The team is geared up and ready to cheer on the men's team to another national title.

Bre Brandenburg uses fancy footwork to move the ball down the field.

Freshmen Brigid O'toole and Tess Caywood received All-Tournament awards at the 2008 National Tournament in Kissimmee, Florida. Beyond the tournament awards, both women also made Second Team All-American for the season. Katie Wright made First Team All-American for her second year in a row and was the Lady Crusaders' leading scorer.

Front Row: John Learned, Drew Proctor, Chad Hannagan, Michael Gwaltney, Nick DeSouza, Jordan Murphy, Adam Reimer, Daniel Doll, Jared Stafos.

Seniors Jared Stafos, David Ham, and Chad Hannagan exit the field after their final home game in Manhattan. The three won three National Championships in their four year career.

Andrew Crandall beat his defender only to be fouled.

Chad Hannagan looks to play the ball up the field.

The MCC Men's Soccer team had a lot of pressure on their shoulders coming into the season. They were National Champions in 2007 and were looking to repeat in 2008. After starting out slow, the Crusaders picked up their game and managed to have another dream season.

The men began their first eight games with a record of 3-5. They dropped a few close games and a few beatings. The team had two 4-0 losses and three games they lost by one goal. This was the turning point in the year. After coming back they pulled out a big home win against Central Christian College of KS and went on a run that would push them toward the ultimate goal of a second consecutive National Championship.

The streak they had was a 17 game winning streak that went through Conference play, the Conference tournament, Regional tournament, and National tournament. In that time, the Crusaders named five players to First-Team All-Conference including the MVP Jared Stafos. The team would also put six players on the All-Region team.

At this point, the team would go on to the National tournament. The first round was a rematch from last year's first round game: Johnson Bible. The Crusaders came out on top again with a 4-0 victory. The second round led them to Philadelphia where they would prevail once again 4-1. The final brought on Providence College from Canada where MCC dominated play and grabbed the National Championship once again.

Reid Hannon jumps and heads the ball in the right direction.

Drew Proctor keeps the ball in control as two opponents watch.

Mike Sullivant is glad he stretched before the game.

Senior Spotlight Jared Stafos

Senior Jared Stafos has been a starter at Manhattan Christian College for his entire four year career playing on the Men's soccer team. He has battled injuries every year which seem to pull him out right at the very end, only for him to make seemingly miraculous comebacks to help lead his team to victory. This year has been especially phenominal as he grabbed Conference MVP, Regional MVP and National tournament MVP to go along with his National Championship.

Women's Basketball

Kirsten Cranford shows great concentration as she shoots the ball.

Kristy Reigle focuses on her next move as she keeps her Barclay opponent away. Chandler Hiebsch, Laura Skiles and Laura Seley are recognized on Senior Recognition Night for their great accomplishments over the years.

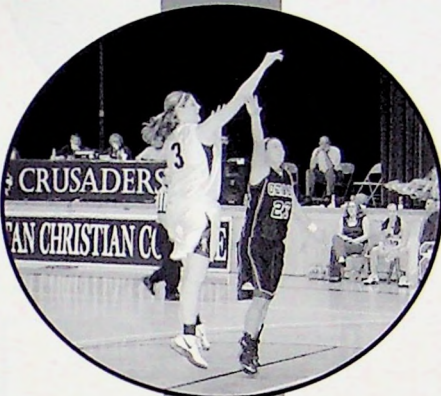

The MCC Women's Basketball Team had a rough start but came on strong and finished with a great year. The team went on to capture the Midwest Christian College Conference Tournament Championship. In the semi-finals the ladies defeated the #4 seed Calvary Bible College and then in the Championship game they defeated Grace University. This is the first tournament championship for the ladies since 2006. Brianna Helfrich was named MVP of the Conference, Whitney Stotts was selected 2nd Team All-Conference and Charity Zemke was named Honorable Mention All-Conference.

The ladies were the #2 seed going into the Regional Tournament that MCC hosted. The ladies came out victorious and claimed the NCCAA Regional Tournament Championship title.

Brianna Helfrich and Charity Zemke were named 1st Team All-Region, Whitney Stotts was named 2nd Team All-Region, and Larry Olson was named Central Region Coach of the Year.

The ladies then traveled to Grayson, Kentucky for the NCCAA National Tournament as the #4 seed. The team played extremely hard and came away with an 8th place finish. This was the first time the ladies had made it to the National Tournament since 2006 and Coach Olson was very pleased with how hard they played.

The ladies join together in prayer with the Barclay team.

Tess Caywood drives past her Nebraska opponent.

Senior Spotlight Chandler Hiebsch

"Winning our conference regular season, conference tournament, the region tournament and going to nationals this season was an awesome end to my MCC basketball career. Even more than that, though, I've loved the relationships I've formed with my team these past four years and the amazing times we've shared."

Men's Basketball

Jordan Strom drives the lane while Mike Williams sets a defensive pick.

Devin Toll drives to the basket.

The MCC Men's Basketball team finished the season off with an outstanding 29-8 record while going 10-0 in Conference play. This is the best record for the team in school history. The men made history again by competing in the National Tournament and advancing to the semi-finals. The Crusaders beat Southeastern University in the semi-final game to claim 3rd place in the tournament, the highest finish in school history.

The men had a solid season all around. The Crusaders had a 15 game win streak in the middle of their season, only coming to an end in a nail-biting overtime game against Central Bible. After this loss, the Crusaders recovered to go on to another seven game win streak which led them to the National Tournament.

This year's Crusader Basketball team captured the Regional Tournament title as well as the Conference Tournament title. Many of the Crusader players were recognized for their outstanding level of play on the court. Junior Kenny Park was given Regional Honorable Mention. Junior Jordan Strom was Second Team All-Conference and Regional Honorable Mention. Junior Mike Williams was awarded First Team All-Conference as well as First Team All-Region. Junior Justin Glenn was named the Conference and Regional MVP. Lastly, Shawn Condra was named Region Coach of the year.

The men had a record breaking and history making year and are looking forward to next years season.

Kenny Park looks to make a pass to Devin Toll.

Justin Glenn stretches far above his opponent to make his shot.

"The best part about playing basketball at MCC was hanging out with the coolest dudes ever. It's been a great three years and I wouldn't trade them for anything."

Baseball

Baseball is our nation's past time, and it is starting to become a recurring dominance here at MCC. The baseball team won regionals and went to Nationals for the second year in a row. Behind the pitching of senior Josh Tatem, the team put up great numbers on the season and continued their improvements on the season. During the regular season they went 17-20 but it must be noted that they began the season with a record of 1-10 in their first 11 games. The beginning of March they turned around and made improvements and ran their competition. After that time period, they went 20-12 including grabbing the Regional title for the second year in a row.

With regionals being held at Tointon Family Stadium at Kansas State University, the team had a big hype for this tournament. They were ranked #1 in the seedings but dropped the second game of the tournament to Hillsdale Freewill Baptist. They bounced back and beat Ozark for the second time in the tournament and moved on to the Championship in the double elimination style tournament. They came out and beat Hillsdale by a run 7-6 and forced a second game. They beat them again by a score of 6-3 to claim the Regional title and secure a spot at the National Tournament in Mason, Ohio. This years team was led by three seniors: Kevin Hubbard, Josh Tatem, and Justin Reinhard.

Emmon Bradley grabs the ball to make a fast play at first base.

Senior Spotlight Josh Tatem

Senior Josh Tatem has had a rollercoaster ride this entire year. He continually got better all year and has been one of the best baseball players that MCC has ever seen in it's baseball existence. Josh had a batting average of .341 this season and his on base percentage was .442. His ERA was 3.31 and had 19 strikeouts on the season.

Intramurals

Devin Toll rises above the net to set up a teammate during intramural volleyball. Volleyball was held both indoors and outdoors this year at Eisenhower Middle School and MCC campus for sand volleyball.

Winning dodge ball team: Jacob Carlson, Daniel Offield, Russel Rader, Jacob Clarke, Codi Morris, and Michelle Brooks.

Eric Schneider, Nick Brown, and Jordan Strom discuss strategy for their volleyball game.

One of the highlights of Wednesday evenings is Intramurals. Intramurals gives everyone at Manhattan Christian College the chance to participate in a wide variety of sports and activities. The best thing about intramurals is that it is student driven and involves all the activities that the students want to partake in.

Intramurals happened almost every week during the course of the school year. There was a wide variety of sports which included basketball, indoor volleyball, sand volleyball, soccer, slab ball, dodge ball, flag football, disc golf, knock out, pool, ping pong, and card games.

Intramurals is widely popular around campus and is a lot of the buzz during the week nights as well as a great study break opportunity for the students.

Intramurals focuses on having fun, yet it is still a competitive environment as students scratch and claw in the midst of competition for a trophy t-shirt that reads: "Intramural Champion."

Graduation

Liz Osborne and Drue Donnell are excited for graduation to begin.

Valerie Munoz shares her upcoming plans at the alumni luncheon.

May 9, 2009...a day the graduates have anticipated for four years, some maybe more. After many papers, tests, speeches, sermons, and more papers the graduates have earned their right to be called Manhattan Christian College Alumni.

The day started with a Alumni Luncheon at KSU Union ballroom. At this luncheon graduates shared their upcoming plans and the honor graduates were recognized and given their honor cords.

This year's Graduation speaker was Kurt Mortensen, a 1988 graduate of Manhattan Christian College. He challenged the graduates to be risk takers who will change the world. We look forward to watching that happen.

Thumbs up from Sam VanBuskirk.

"MCC is a wonderful place. After four years, I've really come to believe in what it stands for and the people that represent it."
- Jessica Wright

Garet McHugh, Glenn Davis, and Joel Sholin show what four years of college can do to some people.
